

Joseph Janicki, MD

Current Position:

Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago
Chicago, Illinois USA

Medical School & Graduation Year:

Case Western Reserve University, 2000

Orthopaedic Residency and Fellowship Training:

Orthopaedic Surgery Residency: Case Western Reserve
Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, Cleveland, Ohio

Pediatric Orthopaedic Surgery Fellowship: The Hospital for Sick Childrens, Toronto, Canada

Adolescent and Young Adult Hip Preservation Fellowship:
Boston Children's Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts

What attracted your interest to IPSG?

The opportunity to work together with some of the most talented people in my field to understand Perthes Disease and to determine the best way to treat the condition.

What would you say is the most challenging part of treating Perthes Disease?

The lack of high quality outcome studies on Perthes Disease that can be used to guide treatment and decision making.

What would you like to see accomplished through annual IPSG meetings?

A process that will enable us to determine what treatment strategy for Perthes disease results in the best outcomes.

Read more about Dr. Janicki here!

