

Roberto Guarniero, MD

Current Practice/Center/Institution:

Associate Professor Department of Orthopaedic and Traumatologic Surgery University of Sao Paulo School of Medicine Sao Paulo SP Brazil

Director of Pediatric Orthopaedic Surgery Section University of Sao Paulo

Medical School & Graduation Year:

University of São Paulo School of Medicine, 1972

Residency in Orthopaedics:

Department of Orthopaedic and Traumatologic Surgery University of Sao Paulo School of Medicine

Place of Orthopaedic Residency and Fellowship Training:

Pediatric Orthopaedics Alfred I DuPont Institute – Wilmington – Delaware 1981

What attracted your interest to IPSG?

The opportunity to plan and effectively develop clinical and experimental research in Legg-Calve Perthes Disease.

What would you say is the most challenging part of treating Perthes Disease?

The most challenging part of treating Perthes Disease is to make an early diagnosis.

What would you like to see accomplished through annual IPSG meetings?

The development of a better treatment for the patients and a kind of biological treatment for them.

Read more about Dr. Guarniero (Here)!

Find Dr. Guarniero's publications here!

